

WELCOME

12TH ANNUAL CONFERENCE ON CRIMES AGAINST WOMEN

Jan Langbein

On behalf of Dallas Mayor Mike Rawlings, Dallas Police Chief David Pughes, and all of us at Genesis Women's Shelter & Support, we welcome you to the 12th Annual CONFERENCE ON CRIMES AGAINST WOMEN. It is our honor to host one of the nation's largest and most comprehensive forums on best practices, practical strategies, and cutting-edge tools in the fight to end crimes against women. Experts from across the nation have converged to bring knowledge and skills to assist you in your response, investigation, and prosecution of crimes against women.

As you move through the next three and a half days, we hope you will not only gain new skills, resources, and understanding to take back to your jobs and communities, but that you will also connect with your fellow attendees and revitalize your networks. You will be reminded why we do this work and that you are not alone in your efforts. There is hope for ending this epidemic because we know that working together and coordinating our efforts is the most effective way to combat violence against women.

We are proud of this conference and of our partnership with our co-hosts. And, we are proud to partner with all of you, who work day in and day out to make this world a better place.

Thank you for your service to your communities and for your unwavering commitment to increasing justice for victims, holding offenders accountable, and creating change for women everywhere. Please know that you are making a difference.

Jan Langbein, Chief Executive Officer
Genesis Women's Shelter & Support

CONFERENCE PRESENTED BY:

The mission of Genesis Women's Shelter & Support is to provide safety, shelter and support for women who have experienced domestic violence, and to raise awareness regarding its cause, prevalence and impact.

24-hour hotline: 214.946.HELP (4357) | Help is free and confidential. | www.genesisshelter.org

The Dallas Police Department is dedicated to protecting all Dallas citizens from crimes through its prevention, patrol, and investigative activities. With respect to the victimization of women, the Department has deployed significant resources to effectively investigate the full range of crimes that are committed against women. While all personnel share the responsibility to combat these crimes, the Department has specialized units that have the primary investigative responsibility for the investigation of domestic violence, protective order violations, stalking, sexual assault, registered sex offenders, trafficking, prostitution, and homicide.

CONFERENCE MISSION:

To provide a national forum to disseminate the highest level of training, information, and strategies to professionals who are responders and advocates to victims of crimes against women.

OPENING PLENARY

MONDAY, MAY 22ND // LONE STAR BALLROOM

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Leslie Morgan Steiner

At 22, Leslie Morgan Steiner seemed to have it all: a Harvard diploma, a glamorous job at Seventeen magazine, a funky New York City apartment—plus a handsome, funny, street-smart boyfriend who adored her. But behind a façade of success, this golden girl hid a dark secret. She'd made a mistake shared by millions: she fell in love with the wrong person. Gripping and utterly compelling, New York Times bestseller and TED Talk Crazy Love takes you inside the violent, devastating world of abusive love.

Leslie Morgan Steiner is an author, blogger, and public speaker on violence against women and other issues including motherhood, parenting, and infertility. Her 2009 memoir about surviving domestic violence, Crazy Love, was a New York Times Best Seller, People Pick, Book of the Week for The Week magazine, and subject of the first TED Talk by a domestic violence survivor. She lives in Washington, D.C.

STATE OF THE INDUSTRY REMARKS

Michael A. Mason

Michael A. Mason joined Verizon Communications in January 2008 as Chief Security Officer. He oversees and coordinates global security efforts throughout Verizon and all its business units, including enterprise-wide security strategy and programs, physical security, cyber security, and law enforcement liaison matters. Prior to joining Verizon, Mr. Mason was an Executive Assistant Director with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, in charge of the Bureau's Criminal, Cyber, Response, and Services Branch. In addition, he was responsible for the Office of International Operations, the Critical Incident Response Group, and the Office of Law Enforcement Coordination. Mr. Mason served in the United States Marine Corps from 1980 – 1985 where he achieved the rank of Captain. He sits on the board of directors for the National Cyber and Forensics Training Alliance, the International Security Management Association, and the advisory board of the National Family Justice Center Alliance. Mr. Mason was the recipient of a Presidential Rank Award for Meritorious Executive Service in 2004.

TIPS & TRICKS CCAW 2017

HANDOUTS

All handouts are available on our conference app and our website at www.conferenceccaw.org/Handouts-2017

Log in for handouts: info@conferenceccaw.org

Password: 17CCAWHandouts

Not all speakers will submit handouts. No hardcopies will be provided by the speakers or CCAW.

WORKSHOPS ARE FIRST COME/FIRST SERVED

ARRIVE EARLY! The workshops will be full. If you have a specific workshop you would like to attend, arrive early and have a backup in case the classroom is full. Check the schedule and our Conference App for workshop repeats.

SEE PAGES 10-17 FOR SCHEDULE.

NAME BADGES ARE REQUIRED

You will not be granted access to any workshop, computer lab, or networking event without your name badge. No exceptions. If you misplace your badge, please check lost and found at the Help Desk. If you need to replace your ID, you will need a valid picture ID and $5 for a new badge.

WORKSHOP POLICY

Photos or recordings are not allowed in any workshop or session. You will be asked to leave the workshop and delete the recording or photo. If the issue persists, you may be asked to leave the conference.

WEAR LAYERS

The classrooms are chilly. Be prepared with layers. The hotel works hard to ensure the comfort of our attendees, however, the air conditioning can be difficult to regulate. We are selling fleeces – visit the CCAW booth to purchase yours!

KNOW THE LAY OF THE LAND

- Maps are available in this program and on our Conference App. SEE PAGE 40 FOR MAPS.
- Find the Skybridge - this connects the Sheraton Hotel to the Marriott Dallas City Center and the Plaza of the Americas, where there are MANY lunch options. The Skybridge is open until 8 p.m. every evening.
- Follow the signs. There are a lot of directional signs throughout the conference center and the hotel to help you locate classrooms and other events throughout the week.

SAFETY, SAFETY, SAFETY

If you are uncomfortable or feel unsafe during the conference, please visit the Help Desk and we will address your concerns.

HOWDY HOUR

You will NOT want to miss this fun networking opportunity Monday evening!

SEE PAGE 7 FOR MORE INFORMATION.

NETWORKING

The second most valuable feature of CCAW! Check out Howdy Hour and the new Working Lunches (SEE PAGES 16-17) for invaluable networking opportunities. Visit the exhibitors to learn about professional resources available to you.

SEE PAGES 35-36 FOR A LIST OF EXHIBITORS.

Use the app! Check out the social wall and the attendee feature to find fellow attendees who have agreed to share their contact info. Please visit the Help Desk for assistance.

FEEDBACK AND EVALUATIONS

So that we may provide a more streamlined process, all workshop evaluations will be completed on the Conference app. If you have any specific concerns about a speaker or workshop, see the Help Desk. Otherwise, please download the app to evaluate all workshops.

The conference is conducted for the sole purpose of providing training to only those people employed by government agencies, service providers, or nonprofits in the fields of law enforcement, prosecution, social work, medicine, advocacy, and others who work directly with victims of crimes against women. The management of the conference reserves the right to refuse admission to any individual who does not meet these criteria.

CASE STUDIES

BARBER OF SAN MARCOS: A LESSON LEARNED ON JEALOUSY, SEXUAL ASSAULT, STRANGULATION, & WATERBOARDING +

Allyson Cordoni, Brian Erskine, Janie Duke Mott

This case study will review the assault of a 34-year-old former U.S. Army soldier who was sexually assaulted in her own home and subjected to strangulation and waterboarding. This presentation will discuss the intense jealousy that the perpetrator exhibited towards the victim that led him to beat, sexually assault, strangle, and waterboard her. While this case resulted in a conviction, there were several areas of investigation/examination that served as a teaching moment for all involved.

DIRTY MONEY: AN FBI-HSI INVESTIGATION OF FOLK NATION/GANGSTA DISCIPLES' HUMAN TRAFFICKING ACTIVITIES

Julio Lara

This joint FBI-HSI investigation provides a case study on the nexus between street gangs and human trafficking, with a discussion on how investigators can leverage social media and online activity to further cases. In this case, members of the Folk Nation/Gangsta Disciples street gang used force and coercion to prostitute women and children for member's own personal gain. Investigators used the gang member's online activity, social media presence, and use of interstate commerce to investigate and successfully prosecute six confirmed gang members, one of which was employed as a Juvenile Probation Officer. This case study highlights the success of interagency coordination and validates a victim-centered approach to human trafficking investigations.

DOUBLE HOMICIDE IN BROOKLYN, TRIAL IN RUSSIA: A COLLABORATIVE PROSECUTION BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND RUSSIA

Cynthia Lynch

This case study will present the investigation of a husband who brutally murdered his wife and her adult daughter in their Brooklyn, NY apartment, then fled to his native country, Russia, before he could be apprehended in the U.S. The U.S. and Russia do not have an extradition treaty, so prosecution by the Kings County DA's Office was not possible. The presentation will focus on the cooperative efforts of the Kings County District Attorney's Office, NYPD, Office of Chief Medical Examiner, U.S. Dept. of Justice, and the Russian police department and prosecutor's office to investigate, apprehend, and successfully prosecute the defendant in Russia.

HUNTING THE RED BIRD RAPIST: HOW DALLAS CAUGHT & CONVICTED A PROLIFIC SERIAL RAPIST WITHOUT THE HELP OF FORENSIC EVIDENCE +

Leighton D'Antoni, Amy Derrick, Todd Haecker

In 2013, Waldrick Brooks was a MMA fighter, husband, father, and video game enthusiast. He was a family man with no criminal history—but no one knew that over the course of the past three years, he had raped at least 16 young women. This case study will discuss how the Dallas PD used old-fashioned police work, without the help of any forensic evidence, to identify and arrest Brooks just one week after he raped his last victim. Prosecutors will focus on legal strategies used to admit evidence during the State's Case in Chief and how to win difficult sexual assault cases at trial with vulnerable survivors (prostitutes, drug addicts, and those with mental health issues).

THE INTERSECTION OF INTIMATE PARTNER VIOLENCE & HIV: ASSAULT WITH A DEADLY WEAPON +

Tonia Cunningham, Curtis Howard, Diane Reeve

This case study involves a Frisco, TX man who intentionally transmitted HIV to his long-term partners and casual encounters. It provides a learning opportunity in a unique twist of IPV, as well as medical forensics in cases of HIV transmission. Extremely common, yet often ignored due to numerous obstacles investigative and prosecutorial issues, intentional HIV transmission and intimate partner violence are closely linked. Takeaways include the use of medical and community resources in obtaining evidence and unique investigative techniques. Presenters will discuss the integral role of medical science, best practices for media interaction in high-profile cases, the importance of recognizing symptoms of PTSD, and how advocates can contribute to the healing process in cases where victims have been betrayed as well as injured.

JACOB LEE BOYD: A STUDY IN TEEN VIOLENCE

Messina Madson, Jessica Trevizo

Jacob Lee Boyd was 17 when he strangled his 16-year-old girlfriend. The classmates that were initially outraged at the time of the murder appeared at trial to minimize the defendant's behavior and blame the victim. This case study will show how social media was used to shame a young girl and pressure her to stay in a relationship she was trying to leave.

THE LISA CUTLER CASE: LESSONS LEARNED FROM A STAGED "DROWNING ACCIDENT"

Nichole Kroncke, Andrea Zaferes

In 2012, Chad Cutler attempted to stage his wife's death as a "drowning accident" in their bathtub. Three years later, a jury determined Cutler had committed murder in a cold, calculated, and premeditated manner; he had intentionally drowned his wife after years of domestic violence. The ability of the Illinois State Police to perform a timely homicidal drowning investigation was key to a successful prosecution. Presenters will discuss how these challenging circumstantial cases can be worked from start to finish, with key takeaways including crime scene reconstruction and the use of expert testimony and hearsay statements by a deceased victim.

PROSECUTING THE BOY NEXT DOOR ☼

Kara Comte, Jessica Escue

"He seemed like such a nice guy." As many in the law enforcement community know, some of the most dangerous and violent offenders are often wolves in sheep's clothing. These defendants often have minimal criminal history and are charming, personable, and outwardly safe. As a result, investigating and prosecuting these seemingly harmless defendants often presents unique challenges. This case study will focus on the investigation and prosecution of two offenders in a college town, Chad McFadden and Lance Leftwich, whose innocent appearances were key in allowing them to target their victims and nearly escape punishment.

TOUGH DECISIONS: AN AGGRAVATED MALICIOUS WOUNDING CASE PROSECUTED AGAINST THE VICTIM'S WISHES ☼

Nancy Oglesby

C.A. was thrown through a double-paned window by her boyfriend, receiving life-threatening injuries. She was cooperative with the prosecution through the preliminary hearing until her boyfriend was released on bond. At that point, she hired an attorney to inform the Commonwealth that she would be "taking the fifth" and that she and her boyfriend were soon getting married. The presenter will show how this case was successfully investigated and handled in court despite several intentions to sabotage the matter. This case study will provide an in-depth look at how to build a successful evidence-based prosecution, even in the most serious cases, when the victim becomes a witness for the defense.

U.S. v. MACIAS: MANIPULATION & CONTROL TACTICS OF A SEX TRAFFICKER

Peter Angell

In July 2015, a mother and daughter entered a Police Department in Florida to report their fear of a man who had sexually assaulted the daughter and trafficked both women for commercial sex. In the 10-month investigation that followed, the FBI learned that a 35-year-old Army veteran had engaged in the sexual exploitation of numerous women around the U.S. for over a decade. The federal investigation resulted in the indictment and arrest of the trafficker on charges related to the interstate sex trafficking of a teenage victim, and in April 2016 he was sentenced to 30 years in prison. This case study will focus on the psychological tactics used by the trafficker to manipulate and control his victims and will also provide insight into the experiences of the trafficking survivor.

WALKING IN HER SHOES (PART 1 & 2)

Christi Decoufle, Leah Rogers

Through this case study and survivor story, attendees will better understand pimp culture as it applies to sex trafficking. The detective will outline a multi-state sex trafficking investigation with adult and juvenile victims. Participants will learn how the victim was coerced into prostitution; they will be shown how she was manipulated, controlled and exploited to financially benefit the trafficker and will understand the trauma inflicted and why a victim might not leave. The presenters will also discuss best practices in aftercare for service providers and investigators.

WHEN SERIAL RAPISTS MURDER +

Fred Harris, Sheilah Priori

This case study will detail the investigation of a serial and savage sexual predator that viciously assaulted, robbed, and murdered his victims. One victim was found lying in pool of her own blood behind a building in Killeen, TX, left for dead. The victim was transported to the hospital for a forensic exam, which resulted in DNA collection that connected this predator to several rapes, robberies, serious assaults, and murder across two states. The presenters will discuss the medical aspect of the sexual assault exam and how law enforcement was able to build community trust and track a serial predator with the help of a forensic nurse, a brave woman, and a mother that refused to let her daughter's murder go unsolved.

COMPUTER LABS

EXIF DATA & USB INFO: TAKING YOUR INVESTIGATION TO THE NEXT LEVEL

Bryan Franke

This lab will introduce participants to EXIF data that can be found embedded within pictures. Learn what EXIF data is, what it contains, how to view it, how that data could enhance your investigation, and methods to document this information for the court, judge, and jury in an easily understood method. Ever wonder if someone has uploaded or downloaded information/programs/spyware via flash drive? Have they connected a "keylogger" to one of your USB ports? When you are executing a search warrant, would you like to know if the suspect has other storage devices or digital cameras you have not found, or connected their phone to the computer to download pictures? This session will give participants a software tool and hands-on application of it so you can quickly answer these questions while still on scene.

FACEBOOK ADVANCED SEARCHING & URL MANIPULATIONS

Dean Chatfield, Justin Fitzsimmons, Timothy Lott, Lauren Wagner

Facebook is the largest worldwide social media website and contains a substantial amount of potential investigative information. First, participants will use Facebook graph search to find a target profile. Once a target profile has been identified, we will use Facebook URL manipulations. URL manipulations can show content beyond what can be seen from going to the profile.

MUST-HAVE TECHNOLOGY TOOLS

Dean Chatfield, Justin Fitzsimmons, Timothy Lott, Lauren Wagner

This hands-on computer lab will include Firefox add-ons to save videos from YouTube and other websites, and to save or copy websites. Also included will be Google operators and services to make searching for information much for efficient and reliable, as well as Jing, VLC, Irfanview, and Audacity software.

TRACING EMAIL COMMUNICATION

Bryan Franke

When you are investigating a case that involves email, can you find out where it came from and what service and network was used to send it? Participants will learn how to locate, view, and read email header data. You will learn what resources are available to determine what Internet Service Provider (ISP) was used to send the email, how to locate where and how to serve preservation requests and legal process to said ISP, and what some email services do to change the email header data and how that impacts your investigation. Participants will also learn how to geo-locate a general area for the possible suspect before you get the physical address from the ISP. These skill sets will then be applied to a variety of emails while in the lab. Various methods of documenting these activities for future court proceedings will also be addressed.

TWITTER INVESTIGATIONS

Dean Chatfield, Justin Fitzsimmons, Timothy Lott, Lauren Wagner

Twitter searching will be introduced to allow searching for Twitter profiles, tweet keywords and hashtags, and even searching for tweets from a particular latitude and longitude. These Twitter searching techniques will include both standard and hidden Boolean operators, ensuring that investigators have access to the best possible evidence.

WORKSHOP DESCRIPTIONS

FOR WORKSHOP SCHEDULE, PLEASE SEE PAGES 10-17

ABDUCTIONS & EXPLOITATION ON COLLEGE CAMPUSES

Jim Walters

This workshop will explore the challenges facing colleges and universities where students fall prey to abduction and exploitation. Attendees will learn about factors that contribute to victimization and hear examples of students who have been victims. The growing challenges victimized students face and the warning signs that this may be happening in your community will also be discussed.

ABUSIVE MINDS THINK ALIKE

Kristen Howell, Carrie Paschall

As investigators, we know that where there is one form of abuse, they may likely be other. The presentation will discuss some basic dynamics of child sexual abuse and will correlate the similarities in characteristics of the crime, characteristics of the offender, disclosure process and patterns, victim grooming, recantation, and compliant victim characteristics to those that also exist in domestic violence.

ADVANCED INVESTIGATION OF COLD CASE, LONG TERM MISSING, & UNIDENTIFIED HUMAN REMAINS

Brian Killacky

This workshop will illustrate the potential connections between cases that can go unsolved for decades and how to build facts sufficient to prove who is responsible beyond a reasonable doubt. The cultivation of information, assembly of the investigative file, critical use of current forensic technologies, and investigative and prosecutorial approaches to historical cases that have remained unresolved will be discussed.

ANIMALS & DOMESTIC VIOLENCE: ANOTHER TOOL OF MANIPULATION

May Gupta, Kelsey McKay

Animal cruelty and threats to harm pets are tactics commonly used by batterers to coerce and intimidate human family members. This session explores the dynamics of animal cruelty in the context of power and control and explains how this awareness can improve victim safety and batterer accountability.

THE ART OF INTERROGATION: A 360° PERSPECTIVE (PT. 1 & 2)

Kevin Navarro

This is a video intensive presentation using actual interrogation footage of killers involved in Dallas homicides, along with video interviews of the killers from the prison where they are now serving time. Participants will get a unique look as to what works in the interrogation room and its effect on the subject being interrogated.

ASSESSING RISK FROM THE BENCH: INNOVATIVE STRATEGIES FOR JUDGES

Rob Cañas, Rebecca Thomforde Hauser

How can courts increase access to justice for domestic violence litigants? This interactive presentation will describe evidence-based domestic violence risk factors and assessment and provide participants with two practical tools: the Domestic Violence Risk Factor Guide for Civil Judges and the Domestic Violence Risk Factor Guide for Self-Represented Litigants.

ASYLUM LAW: PROTECTION FOR IMMIGRANT WOMEN FLEEING DOMESTIC VIOLENCE IN THEIR COUNTRIES

Patricia Freshwater

In the last year, over 68,000 families have come to the U.S. seeking protection from violence in Central America and Mexico. Most are women and young children who are fleeing violence in the home and in the street. This workshop will explain how asylum law can protect them and discuss the legal and social challenges they face.

BEST PRACTICES IN PROTECTIVE ORDERS

Bronwyn Blake

This workshop explains the different types of protective orders, how they work, their application, and how they can be utilized to improve victim safety and prevent future violence. This presentation will cover Family Violence, Dating Violence, Sexual Assault, Stalking, and Trafficking Protective Orders. The changes and additions of the new types of protective orders mandated in the last legislative session will also be discussed.

BEYOND CONVICTIONS TO COLLABORATION: HOW COMMUNITY PROSECUTION CAN HELP YOUR OFFICE

Tiana Sanford

Building and maintaining trust between members of the community and those who police and prosecute within it is of paramount concern. This workshop will explore Community Based Prosecution and Community Policing. Participants will learn the key principles of community-based initiatives and discuss the merits, strategies, and pitfalls surrounding these efforts.

BODY WORN CAMERAS: PRACTICAL CONSIDERATIONS IN DOMESTIC VIOLENCE CASES

Staley Heatly, John Wilkinson

The use of body-worn cameras can provide compelling evidence in domestic violence cases, but they may also adversely impact victim privacy or safety. This presentation will discuss issues prosecutors and law enforcement officers may encounter, including the implications of deactivating a BWC during investigation, expectations of privacy, safety issues, discovery by the defense, redaction, orders prohibiting distribution, and freedom of information act requests.

BRAIN ON TRAUMA: PHYSIOLOGICAL CUES TO UNDERSTANDING AND WORKING WITH TRAFFICKING SURVIVORS

Naomi Azar

This workshop will present an overview of the body's physiological stress response and will explain how this response can become derailed and lead to symptoms of post-traumatic stress. The presenter will examine a range of coping strategies, such as substance abuse, self-harm, returning to one's trafficker, and help rejecting behavior, and consider avenues for addressing these difficulties.

BUILDING A COORDINATED COMMUNITY RESPONSE

Mark Wynn

What's the real deal with CCRs? What are the key elements to successfully beginning one and keeping it going? What are the first steps? This workshop will examine the building blocks of successful partnerships, working collaboratively to identify and solve problems, sharing a common goal, understanding each other's responsibilities and limitations, and maintaining honest and trusting communications.

CHANGING POLICE CULTURE SURROUNDING DOMESTIC VIOLENCE & SEXUAL ASSAULT

Jon Sundermeier

This workshop focuses on changing a police department's culture from within and how other community partners can assist. It examines one agency's experience, what worked, and what didn't as change agents within the department struggled to change how DV and sexual assault cases were viewed and investigated.

CHANGING THE DESTINIES OF SURVIVORS WITH HIGH ACE SCORES

Casey Gwinn

The Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACE) Study is the most predictive study ever done on the impact of childhood trauma on adult illness, disease, and criminality. This workshop, presented by the author of the first book written for the general public on the ACE Study, will help professionals integrate ACE Study research and findings into their day-to-day work.

CHEERLEADING FOR YOUR CCR: LEADING AN EFFECTIVE & SUSTAINABLE TEAM

Mark Wynn

Discover what makes an effective and sustainable Coordinated Community Response and explore ways to reinvigorate the relationships, commitments, and drive needed to make effective and long-lasting change. This workshop will examine the benefits of positive, cooperative, and trusting relationships between advocacy, law enforcement, and stakeholders that attendees may have never considered.

CLOSING THE DOOR ON ILLICIT MESSAGE BUSINESSES: HOLDING TRAFFICKERS ACCOUNTABLE

Jane Anderson, Rochelle Keyhan

Illicit Message Businesses (IMBs) are known fronts for criminal activity and human trafficking, where women are forced, coerced, and defrauded into performing countless sex acts with strangers on a daily basis. This presentation will provide an overview of the IMB organizational model, discuss how women are recruited, harbored, and exploited within those networks, and develop strategies to build evidence-based cases that can ensure that offenders are held accountable for their wide-ranging criminal activity.

CO-CHARGING STALKING: ENHANCING SEXUAL ASSAULT PROSECUTIONS

Elaina Roberts

This workshop will focus on the importance of recognizing the intersection of stalking in sexual assault cases. Evidentiary considerations around co-charging stalking with sexual assault will be provided, including how to show the assault was pre-meditated. Such evidence can aid in combatting the myths of "he said, she said" and "regret sex" cases.

COMMUNITY SUPERVISION OF FAMILY VIOLENCE OFFENDERS

Misty Biddick

This presentation will discuss practices that enhance the supervision and accountability of family violence offenders. It will also include the role of the probation officer in supervising family violence offenders and assisting victims of family violence while on probation.

A CONVERSATION ON ABUSE MYTHS & MISCONCEPTIONS WITH A WOMAN WHO SURVIVED

Leslie Morgan Steiner

Join Leslie—survivor, Harvard grad, and best-selling author—for a candid, interactive discussion about the most common misconceptions about relationship abuse and what we all can do to break the silence.

COORDINATED COMMUNITY RESPONSE BETWEEN MILITARY & CIVILIAN COMMUNITIES

Brian Clubb, Amanda Elkanick

Although military and civilian cultures vary greatly, collaboration between systems to create a more uniform response to violence is vital. Presenters will give examples of how collaboration has increased in Texas and how to replicate the collaboration model in attendees' communities and states. Coordinated community response models will include active duty, reserves, and veteran options.

COORDINATED RESPONSE TO HUMAN TRAFFICKING: CLAIMING YOUR SEAT AT THE ANTI-TRAFFICKING TABLE

Becky Bullard

Developing and maintaining a coordinated response to human trafficking requires a strategic and inclusive approach. This often means that agencies not previously included in anti-trafficking efforts should claim their seat at the table. Collaboratives need to be well-structured, with clear roles, mission, and goals for its members. When these components are present, agencies can successfully hold traffickers accountable and provide services to victims.

COUNTERING WITNESS INTIMIDATION: FORFEITURE BY WRONGDOING

Jane Anderson, John Wilkinson

Witness intimidation and manipulation factor into almost every domestic violence prosecution. This workshop will include a brief review of confrontation law under Crawford and its progeny, and focus on forfeiture by wrongdoing as a solution in the case of witnesses who are unavailable for trial due to the offender's wrongful conduct.

CREATING A SPECIALIZED SEXUAL ASSAULT INVESTIGATIVE RESPONSE

Jordan Satinsky

This presentation will focus on a coordinated approach to sexual assault investigations and discuss the successes the Montgomery County Police Department in Maryland has seen since creating a specialized sexual assault unit. The advantages of co-locating law enforcement, prosecutors, and victim advocates to enhance these cases and provide victims with better services will be discussed.

CREATING AN INCLUSIVE FRAMEWORK FOR LGBTQ+ SURVIVORS OF INTIMATE PARTNER VIOLENCE

Molly Mangus

LGBTQ+ survivors of intimate partner violence face unique challenges seeking services. In this workshop, participants will review LGBTQ terms, learn how to ask survivors screening questions about LGBTQ identities, and look at the framework used by the NYC Mayor's Office to Combat Domestic Violence in their efforts to increase inclusivity and utilize a trauma-informed model in their Family Justice Centers.

THE CRIME OF DOMESTIC VIOLENCE: A VIDEO TRAINING TOOL

Michael Rizzo, Mark Wynn

The International Association of Chiefs of Police has created a training video to strengthen the response to victims and offenders of DV. When equipped with an understanding of the dynamics of this crime, officers can better address victims' needs and hold offenders accountable. The video will be followed by a discussion on investigations and training efforts.

A CRITICAL & COMMON INTERSECTION: DOMESTIC VIOLENCE IN FAITH COMMUNITIES

Jessica Brazeal, Cathy Moffitt, Omar Suleiman, Howard Wolk

An interfaith panel discussion will consider the impact of domestic violence and violence against women within the contexts of their specific faith communities. The panelists will discuss ways this epidemic is recognized, if at all, and what the response to women is when they are being victimized by their partner, another member of the same faith community.

CULTURAL ACCESSIBILITY: CONSIDERATIONS FOR SERVING VICTIMS WHO ARE DEAF OR HARD OF HEARING

Keri Darling

Participants will gain knowledge about different kinds of Deaf people, along with developing skills for interacting and communicating with them. The workshop includes hands-on activities that will help participants develop a comfort zone in which they can work when they interact with these community members.

CULTURE COUNTS: THE INTERSECTION OF PIMP CULTURE, PORNOGRAPHY, PROSTITUTION, & HUMAN TRAFFICKING

Kirsta Melton

At the intersection of pimp culture, pornography, prostitution and human trafficking we find the key to the proliferation of sex trafficking. This workshop is designed to bring those connections out of the shadows. The presenter will discuss how recognition of the connections could alter potential strategies in the fight against human trafficking in the prevention, recovery, prosecution, and rehabilitation contexts.

THE DARKNET & EMERGING TECHNOLOGIES

Justin Fitzsimmons, Lauren Wagner

As the internet continues to evolve, new layers populate where offenders commit criminal offenses. Participants will learn how the Darknet works and how potential criminal activity is facilitated. In addition, this workshop will demonstrate several newer, popular applications for mobile devices.

DECEPTION DETECTION

Jim Tanner

This session will cover the basics of Discourse Analysis, a lexical and syntactical approach to analyzing statements. Using clear examples, the presenter will explain how a respondent's shifts in words and grammar can point interviewers to "hot spots" in a statement that need to be probed.

DESENSITIZED TO DEATH: UNDERSTANDING & PROSECUTING STRANGULATION (PT. 1 & 2)

Kelsey McKay, Jaime Slaughter

This workshop will cover intimate partner strangulation from top to bottom. Part I focuses on the implementation of a strangulation supplement. Part II explores prosecution, including: voir dire, a simulation of medical expert testimony, and tips to help juries understand this complicated crime. Attendees will never again ask, "Why she have visible injury?"

A DIFFERENT RESPONSE TO INTIMATE PARTNER VIOLENCE: OFFENDER-FOCUSED DOMESTIC VIOLENCE INITIATIVE

Timothy Ellenberger, Kenneth Shultz

High Point PD's Offender-Focused Domestic Violence Initiative is a collaborative community effort to address intimate partner violence. The strategy applies focused deterrence, with the ability to focus on offenders at earlier stages of offending before the violence escalates. OFDVI has resulted in lowered recidivism rates and IPV homicides in High Point.

DNA FOR THOSE WHO DON'T HAVE A SCIENCE DEGREE

Lisa Tanner

This presentation will explore the evolution of forensic DNA analysis and current investigative and prosecutorial best practices. Various legal and investigative issues and options will be discussed, as will the science underlying the technology.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE & MENTAL HEALTH: FACILITATING SAFETY & CHANGE FOR SURVIVORS

Barbie Brashear

This workshop will provide information to raise awareness of barriers and challenges experienced by survivors, identify strategies to increase safety, and encourage participants to go back to their agency and assess current practices to examine how they create opportunities or challenges for increasing access to services and safety.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE HIGH RISK TEAM MODEL

Kelly Dunne, Robert Wile

This workshop will provide a comprehensive understanding of the Domestic Violence High Risk Team Model with an overview of the research at its foundation. The function and structure of key partners in this multidisciplinary approach will be discussed. Participants will learn how members work together to identify high risk cases and mobilize risk management strategies, and the inspiring outcomes of successful DVHRTs will be shared.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE HOMICIDES STAGED AS DROWNING ACCIDENTS OR SUICIDES (PT. 1 & 2)

Andrea Zaferes

Drowning, a lesser-known form of domestic violence asphyxia, is typically fatal. Assumptions of accident/suicide by investigators and lack of aquatic death investigation training cause too many of these homicides to be missed. Land-based DV homicides have also been staged as drowning accidents/suicides with similar misdiagnoses. Learn the red flags of these homicides and a practical investigative framework.

THE EMERGENCY ELDER ABUSE SHELTER: A REPLICABLE MODEL

Tovah Kasdin, Joy Solomon

Participants will learn about emergency elder abuse shelter, a uniquely holistic, victim-centered model that has been replicated in over 14 shelters. Attendees will gain an understanding of the unique nature of elder abuse, receive concrete tools, and troubleshoot potential challenges when starting a shelter program catering to the unique needs of attendees' communities.

EMPLOYMENT RIGHTS OF VICTIMS OF DOMESTIC VIOLENCE, SEXUAL ASSAULT, & STALKING

Robin Runge, Gabriela Vega

This session will provide participants with the tools to advocate for the employment rights of victims. Participants will be better able to describe the impact of violence against women on their ability to obtain and maintain employment, identify the laws and policies that provide protections for victims, and apply strategies for advocating for victims.

ETHICAL CONSIDERATIONS FOR PROSECUTORS IN GENDER-BASED VIOLENCE & HUMAN TRAFFICKING CASES

Jane Anderson, John Wilkinson

This workshop will address ethical considerations in the context of charging decisions, immunity, compulsion of victim testimony, and the investigative function of a prosecutor. The presenters will use hypothetical case scenarios to challenge prosecutors to evaluate their decision-making in the context of ethical rules and principles.

ETHICS AND RISK MANAGEMENT: THE IMPACT OF THE DIGITAL AGE

Tanisha Knighton

Mental health professionals must be mindful of ethical challenges when managing their online presence. They must understand how to manage confidentiality and privacy issues, personal disclosure, dual relationships, and documentation of electronic contact, as well as issues related to use of email or texting to provide therapy. Participants are encouraged to bring their smart phones, tablets, and/or computers to participate in this interactive workshop.

ETHICS FOR JUDGES IN FAMILY VIOLENCE CASE

Brandon Birmingham, Rob Cañas, Dana Nelson

When may a victim in a family violence case need their own attorney? What about those recantations? Ethics for judges take on new dimensions in family violence cases. Participants will discuss the issues raised through scenarios encountered regularly and review the statutes and case law that guide our conduct.

ETHICS IN FAMILY VIOLENCE CASES

Dana Nelson

When may a victim in a family violence case need their own attorney? What about those recantations? Ethics for prosecutors and attorneys representing victims take on new dimensions in family violence cases. Participants will discuss the issues raised through scenarios encountered regularly and review the statutes and case law that guide our conduct.

EVIDENCE COLLECTION & FORENSIC PHOTOGRAPHY

Sheilah Priori

Many techniques in collecting sexual assault evidence have been taught over the years. There have been changes in the law and there are various National Protocols, hospital policies, procedures. This workshop will focus on the difference in sexual assault evidence kits, collection techniques, and forensic photography, using case studies to better arm medical staff with valuable skills and knowledge.

FACEBOOK PRIVACY & SAFETY: A MASTERCLASS FOR ADVOCATES

Kaitlin Sullivan

This workshop will take a look at how to increase privacy online and will provide tips and strategies to stay safe online. A member of the Facebook Team will review online tools and how to adjust privacy settings. Participants are encouraged to bring their laptops.

FAITH & CULTURE: DOMESTIC VIOLENCE IN AFRICAN AMERICAN RELATIONSHIPS

Sharon Ellis Davis

For African American Christians, the intersections of cultural context, religious beliefs, and domestic violence are significant. This workshop will discuss the important role that the church plays in responding to domestic violence, highlight the significant faith issues faced by African American survivors, and equip religious leaders and the church to become a safe place for victims to seek support.

FAMILY VIOLENCE & THE TELECOMMUNICATION PROFESSIONAL: ARE WE DOING THE BEST WE CAN?

Judy Cervenka

Attendees will identify the mission of a TCP in a domestic violence incident and become familiar with terms, concepts and better questioning techniques while gaining an understanding about barriers faced in leaving. This session will demonstrate how to strengthen the victim's confidence with the "system" and their ability to get help.

FINDING THE HIDDEN CRIME: HUMAN TRAFFICKING

Bill Bernstein, Marisa Miller

Trafficking is a hidden crime, especially certain types of labor trafficking. Using several case examples, the presenter will discuss many of the barriers to identifying and uncovering cases of human trafficking, as well as some common misconceptions.

FIRST LINE SUPERVISORS' RESPONSE TO VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN

Mark Wynn

This workshop will highlight effective ways that supervisors can engage first responders in addressing violence against women. Participants will be exposed to methods of empowering and strengthening officers, innovative employee incentives and rewards, and other motivating techniques, as well as skills to mentor others on these crimes.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE INTERPRETING IN OUR WORK

Lisa Fontes

Relying on foreign language interpreters makes working with victims and survivors who don't speak English possible, but can also create misunderstandings. This practical and interactive workshop provides tips and examples to improve cross-cultural communication through interpreters.

FORENSIC EVALUATION OF GUNSHOT WOUNDS: APPLICATIONS FOR DOMESTIC & OFFICER-INVOLVED SHOOTINGS (PT. 1 & 2)

Bill Smock

Physical characteristics, rather than size of the wound, will tell you if a gunshot wound is an entrance or exit, the range of fire, and if the injuries are consistent with the history given by the victim. This workshop will assist attendees in evaluation, diagnosis, investigation, and prosecution of gunshot wounds.

FORENSIC EXPERIENTIAL TRAUMA INTERVIEW: A TRAUMA-INFORMED EXPERIENCE (PT. 1 & 2)

Russell Strand

The Forensic Experiential Trauma Interview is a promising best-practice in the investigation and prosecution of many forms of violence, including sexual assault and trauma cases. This interview technique draws on the best practices of child forensic interviews, critical incident stress management, and neuroscience.

FORMING A SEX TRAFFICKING INTERVENTION TEAM IN YOUR COMMUNITY

Rachel Fischer

This workshop will review ways that community partners can participate in the fight against sex trafficking. The discussion will include outreach avenues—online, street team, massage parlors, strip clubs, community buildings—and many other ways to intervene. Exit teams, aftercare, and team security planning will be discussed, as well as the realities of the response.

FRIEND OR FOE: ROLES OF LAW ENFORCEMENT & SANES WORKING SIDE-BY-SIDE

Kim Basinger, Kathleen Gann

Law enforcement officers and Sexual Assault Nurse Examiners have very separate roles and different focuses, but often work together with a patient or victim. Understanding each different roles will advance the shared goal of improved public safety and justice.

GENESIS TRAUMA APPROACH

Ruth Guerreiro, Jordyn Lawson

This workshop will discuss the Genesis Trauma Approach, which integrates the Transtheoretical Model of Change, the Genesis Foundational Cognitive Approach, and the use of the Adaptive Information Processing model, including the use of Eye Movement Desensitization and Reprocessing (EMDR).

GETTING GRANTS

Jim Tanner

Responding to requests for Proposals (RFPs) is part of most agencies' tasks. Based on 46 years of successfully competing for grant funding (with a 99% success rate), the presenter will share simple steps he uses to ensure his proposals are well received. Developing unique responses within a systematic approach greatly enhances the chance of being awarded grant funding.

GOVERNMENT DATA & SURVIVOR PRIVACY

Erica Olsen, Alejandro Palacios

One of the major risks to survivor privacy is government public data. There are currently three major areas in which victim privacy could be compromised: police data initiatives, body worn cameras, and automatic voter registration. This workshop will discuss these initiatives and how the victim service community can be a part of these policy issues.

THE HISTORY OF VIOLENCE AGAINST NATIVE WOMEN: WHAT LAW ENFORCEMENT & PROSECUTORS NEED TO KNOW

Sarah Deer

This workshop will help law enforcement and prosecutors understand the historical context and contemporary ramifications of violence against American Indian and Alaska Native women. Participants will learn about the history of Federal Indian law as it relates to the crimes of domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking, particularly around issues of criminal jurisdiction.

HOW BIAS AND PREJUDICE PREVENT HELP SEEKING BY SURVIVORS OF COLOR

Gretta Gardner

This workshop will explore the difference between bias and prejudice and how personal and institutional biases impact services to communities of color. Participants will discuss how VAWA has improved services to communities of color in the past 20 years and what needs to be done to improve the justice system response and advocacy services for survivors of color.

HOW ONE CASE CHANGED AN OFFICE

Jeff Case, Staley Heatly

This workshop will discuss the dramatic changes made by one office in response to a family violence murder, including training officers on DV response, starting a body worn camera program for police, using expert witnesses in FV prosecution, establishing a batterers intervention program, providing better support for victims, and forming a county-wide DV coalition.

HUMAN TRAFFICKING & BEYOND (PT. 1 & 2)

Tanisha Knighton

This workshop will focus on different types of missing persons and analyze the profiles and vulnerability factors of victims. Recruitment and grooming tactics used by traffickers, terminology and rules associated with the pimping subcultures, recent legislative changes, and the impact of social media will be reviewed through numerous case studies. Participants are encouraged to bring their smartphones/computers/tablets.

IDENTIFYING & RESPONDING TO HUMAN TRAFFICKING IN A MEDICAL SETTING +

Becky Bullard

Health care professionals have a unique opportunity to identify and respond to victims while addressing their medical needs. This workshop will use case examples to review the ways that victims of sex and labor trafficking may present to a medical provider and will provide direction on appropriate, trauma-informed responses to various types of victims.

ILLUSION OF CHOICE

Rebecca Bender, Rebekah Charleston

A survivor will take law enforcement inside the mind of a victim to explore the Illusion of Choice. Attendees will learn about trauma bonds and brainwashing, and will be able to answer questions such as, "Why don't they just run?" This advanced training will equip all areas of law enforcement and prosecution on trafficker's tactics, lingo interpretation and decoding online ads.

IMMIGRATION & LAW ENFORCEMENT TOOLS FOR WORKING WITH VICTIMS

Natalie Nanasi, Jessica Salsbury

This workshop will provide an overview of the eligibility requirements for U nonimmigrant status and VAWA self-petitioning, as well as discuss the benefits of each for both victims and law enforcement agencies. This workshop will also discuss the role law enforcement can play in providing evidence to support VAWA and U visas and address concerns surrounding providing certifications for U visas.

IMMIGRATION Q&A: WHAT'S HAPPENING NOW?

Andrea Aguilar, Patricia Freshwater, Chris Mansour

Join immigration experts for a panel discussion and open Q&A session about recent changes to immigration law and enforcement in the United States. Topics will include border and interior enforcement, detention centers, and "sanctuary cities".

IN HER SHOES: LIVING WITH DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

Facilitated by Genesis Women's Shelter & Support

In Her Shoes is designed for participants to experience firsthand the hurdles and roadblocks that a survivor of domestic violence faces in her life. It is a simulation experience that helps participants build empathy and understanding for the realities that survivors face in trying to live a life free from abuse. This session will be limited to 40 attendees in order to provide a hands-on, interactive experience.

IN HER SHOES: LIVING WITH DOMESTIC VIOLENCE BELOW THE POVERTY LINE

Facilitated by Genesis Women's Shelter & Support

In Her Shoes: Economic Justice is a simulation experience designed for attendees to experience firsthand the hurdles and roadblocks that a survivor of domestic violence faces in her life and how those barriers are compounded by economic difficulties. This session will be limited to 40 attendees in order to provide a hands-on, interactive experience.

IN HER SHOES: LIVING WITH TEEN DATING VIOLENCE

Facilitated by Genesis Women's Shelter & Support

In Her Shoes: Teen Dating Violence is a simulation experience designed for attendees to experience firsthand the hurdles and roadblocks that teen survivors of domestic and dating violence face. This session will be limited to 40 attendees in order to provide a hands-on, interactive experience.

INTEGRATING IDENTITY THEFT SAFETY PLANNING INTO YOUR WORK WITH SURVIVORS

Merry O'Brien, Bridgette Stumpf

The intersection between violent crime and identity theft may be more significant than many realize. This session will explore protocols that victim service professionals can implement to increase their organization's ability to provide assistance to survivors of both financial and violent crime, as well as steps organizations can take to train and collaborate with allied professionals.

INTERGENERATIONAL TRANSMISSION OF TRAUMA: PARENT-CHILD DYNAMICS IN THE AFTERMATH OF HUMAN TRAFFICKING

Naomi Azar

This workshop will focus on the intersection of trafficking, trauma and parenting. It will consider ways in which a parent's trafficking experience might impact the parent-child relationship. Case examples will be presented in order to illustrate specific areas of vulnerability and to identify intervention options for caseworkers involved in a family system.

INTIMATE PARTNER CAMPUS HOMICIDES: WHAT CAN WE LEARN ABOUT PREVENTION & EDUCATION?

Lisa Smith

This workshop will present the results of an analysis of campus homicides, focusing on common characteristics and danger signs. This workshop will analyze actual cases and provide suggestions for prevention and education.

INTIMATE PARTNER VIOLENCE & MILITARY SEXUAL TRAUMA IN VETERAN TREATMENT COURTS

Brian Clubb, Amanda Elkanick

Veteran Treatment Courts provide invaluable resources and treatment for veterans suffering from PTSD and TBI as a result of their service. It is becoming more common for intimate partner violence to be accepted into these courts. This workshop will focus on best practices for accepting these cases into VTC's, consideration of survivors through this process, and national and state resources.

INTIMATE PARTNER VIOLENCE IN A DIGITAL AGE

Erica Olsen, Corbin Streett

This training will illustrate the safety risks of various technologies. Presenters will discuss ways technology is misused to stalk, abuse, or harass survivors; how service providers can help victims assess the abuse that's happening; and offer suggestions on how to document or investigate technology-facilitated abuse.

INVESTIGATING INTIMATE PARTNER VIOLENCE IN THE LGBTQ COMMUNITY (PT. 1 & 2)

Michael Crumrine

This workshop will focus on understanding and investigating intimate partner violence in the LGBTQ community and how to use best practices that encourage trust and respect. The presenter will discuss common myths and barriers, multidisciplinary solutions, and forensic interview techniques, as well as how to apply these practices in order to hold perpetrators accountable.

INVESTIGATING WITH AN EVIDENCE-BASED PROSECUTION IN MIND + ☼

Michael Milnor, Nancy Oglesby

This workshop is taught by an investigator and prosecutor. It will cover specific methods of evidence gathering and corroboration, as well as trial preparation and presentation assuming the victim will not be a witness for the State. Evidence gathering even after the arrest and forfeiture by wrongdoing will also be discussed.

INVESTIGATION OF NON-STRANGER SEXUAL ASSAULT + ☼

Michael Milnor, Nancy Oglesby

This workshop is taught by an investigator and prosecutor. Non-stranger sexual assault cases are some of the most difficult to investigate and prosecute because of the common "consent defense". The presenters will discuss the need for thorough corroboration, trauma-informed interviews, and specific ways to document the "no" message that was given by the victim. Corroborating alcohol-facilitated sexual assaults will also be covered.

ISLAM, DOMESTIC VIOLENCE, & UNIQUE CONSIDERATIONS WHEN DEALING WITH MUSLIM VICTIMS

Omar Suleiman

This presentation will be an in-depth view of Islam's perspective on domestic violence from numerous angles. We will take a look at misconceptions as well as Islamic prescriptions for dealing with physical and emotional violence towards women. We will then look at unique considerations when dealing with Muslim victims and how to help Muslim women in abusive marriages.

IT'S ABOUT CONTEXT, NOT CHARACTER: ADMITTING EVIDENCE UNDER R. 404(B) ☼

Jane Anderson, John Wilkinson

Prior or subsequent acts by an offender against the victim or others may provide compelling proof of motive, intent, absence of mistake or accident, identity, or a common scheme or plan to exploit a victim's vulnerability. This presentation will help prosecutors identify, and argue for the admissibility of, evidence under Rule 404(b).

IT'S ON US: CHANGING THE CULTURE

Jenn Brown

It's On Us is a national movement to change the culture around sexual assault. This workshop will examine how It's On Us has combined grassroots organizing with national partnerships to educate, engage, and empower new allies on campuses and communities nationwide. Attendees will develop a plan to bring It's On Us back to their campus or community.

LESSONS LEARNED FROM IMPLEMENTING THE BLUEPRINT FOR SEXUAL ASSAULT RESPONSE

Maggy McGiffert, Ruben Puente, Caitlin Sulley

The Blueprint for Campus Police, a policing tool designed to better serve victims and promote campus safety, was released in February 2016 by UT Austin's Institute on Domestic Violence & Sexual Assault. This workshop will present lessons learned from implementation across UT System Police departments and how it can be adapted for different campus and off-campus communities.

LETHALITY ASSESSMENT PROGRAM, MARYLAND MODEL: SUCCESSES, IMPLEMENTATION, & BODY-WORN CAMERA CONSIDERATIONS

Kristine Chapman, Whitt Melton

The Lethality Assessment Program, Maryland Model is an evidence-based intimate partner homicide prevention protocol. Agencies in 37 states are implementing the LAP and include large cities, suburbs, small towns, and rural areas. This workshop will address how the program works, community preparedness for implementation, and guidance on the use of body-worn cameras during LAP administration.

LIVING WITH THE MEMORIES +

Jim Tanner

Professionals working crimes against women see and hear many things that can have a disturbing effect on them and their families. This workshop will explain what's behind the secondary trauma of working these cases and provide simple but effective steps we can take to help us live with these stories and images once we have seen and heard them.

A LOOK AT CAMPUS SEXUAL ASSAULT & REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

Bronwyn Blake, Amanda Elkanick

Campus sexual assault requires special consideration of reporting and response. In this workshop, attendees will learn basic dynamics of sexual assault and trauma, as well as the unique reporting requirements and legal rights of survivors on campus. Presenters will address the Clery Act, SAVE Act, and Title IX, as well as other options available to victims through civil legal services.

MINISTRY WITH SURVIVORS OF ABUSE: BUILDING A PROGRAM IN YOUR FAITH COMMUNITY

Jessica Brazeal, Hillary Owen

This workshop will provide practical steps to equip faith communities to respond to survivors of abuse. The presenters will share detailed steps on how Highland Park United Methodist Church began and expanded its domestic violence ministry. Attendees will be given the opportunity to collaborate, ask questions, and share best practices to develop action items for their own faith communities.

MOBILE DEVICE EVIDENCE PRESERVATION & DATA EXTRACTION ☼

John Day

This workshop will provide instruction on the preservation of digital evidence on mobile device platforms and the various types of data extraction used today in criminal investigations. The presenter will display the various methods used by forensic examiners to extract data from mobile devices and best practices for preserving digital evidence.

OFFENDER ACCOUNTABILITY: A SYSTEMS PERSPECTIVE

Jim Henderson

This workshop will discuss how our policies and practices can enhance or impede victim safety and offender accountability. Participants will learn about Therapeutic Jurisprudences, and the presenter will discuss similarities and differences between partner abuse and substance abuse, new tools for managing offenders, how enhanced community collaboration leads to community safety, and national resources for managing those charged with domestic violence.

ONE LOVE "ESCALATION" SCREENING

Zoë Skinner

Join the One Love Foundation for a full 90-minute Escalation workshop. This film-based workshop utilizes trained peer-facilitators to lead an open conversation about the difference between healthy and unhealthy relationship behaviors, providing tangible tools for students to standup for change. Following the film, the audience breaks into small discussion groups led by One Love trained facilitators.

ONE LOVE LUNCH: ESCALATION

Zoë Skinner

Join the One Love Foundation for a lunch-time screening of their premier film, Escalation, and conversation about how the Foundation is building a movement to end relationship abuse through technology-based prevention tools. In opening people's eyes and sparking conversations, One Love is establishing stigma around abuse as the first ingredient in changing the horrible statistics.

ONE SIZE DOES NOT FIT ALL: UNIQUE GUN SURRENDER SOLUTIONS

Rob Cañas, James Granucci, David Keck, Jennifer Waindle

This interactive panel will present several solutions for enforcing gun surrender laws: a judge-run program that uses private storage, a statewide surrender protocol, a protective order surrender program, and a probation-led solution in a state that doesn't have its own surrender laws. Attendees will have the opportunity ask questions and discuss ideas for leading a gun surrender effort in their own communities.

ORDERS OF NONDISCLOSURE FOR SURVIVORS OF HUMAN TRAFFICKING ☼

Natalie Nanasi

New laws in Texas and other jurisdictions have recently expanded eligibility for non-disclosure of criminal convictions for survivors of human trafficking. This session will provide information about the benefits and limitations of these laws, as well as resources to help advocates, attorneys, and others determine eligibility and navigate the application process.

WORKSHOPS

OVERCOMING COERCIVE CONTROL IN INTIMATE RELATIONSHIPS (PT. 1 & 2) +

Lisa Fontes

Coercive control is a strategy that some people use to dominate their intimate partners. Tactics include isolation, intimidation, manipulation, stalking, sexual coercion, and sometimes physical violence. Coercive control strips away a person's sense of self and basic rights. In this workshop, participants will examine coercive control and discuss ways to challenge it on personal, social, and professional levels.

PARTNERING WITH THE NYPD: AN INNOVATIVE TRAUMA-INFORMED APPROACH AT THE PRECINCT LEVEL

Krista Ashbery, Maureen Curtis, Wanda Lucibello

Safe Horizon, together with the NYPD, has recently launched the Crime Victim Assistance Program. CVAP will place a domestic violence advocate and a generalist victim advocate in all New York City police precincts to provide trauma-informed client centered services. This workshop will discuss CVAP, its origins and implementation, and the potential impact on victim services and police/community relations.

PIMP LIFE: THE ANATOMY OF A PIMP

Cara Pierce

Do you think you can spot a pimp?

This workshop will explore the types of individuals involved in sex trafficking, as well as methods to identify pimps and sex trafficking victims. It will also cover ways to work with and empower victims during investigations and prosecutions.

POLISHING THE PROCESS OF TRAUMA-INFORMED NURSING +

Rachel Fischer

This workshop will highlight best practices in building and maintaining forensic nursing programs, while differentiating hospital-based vs. community-based programs. The presenter will discuss ways to maintain program sustainability, including staff retention and combatting burnout due to vicarious trauma, as well as how to work collaboratively with community organizations to bridge the gap between competing and complementing agencies. Highlights from the Detroit Sexual Assault Kit project will also be discussed.

PROSECUTING HUMAN TRAFFICKING CASES +

Brooke Grona-Robb

Human trafficking cases present prosecutors with unique issues and complicated litigation. This workshop is designed to assist prosecutors and investigators from initial investigation to post-conviction. It will discuss how to investigate cases to obtain successful prosecutions and will also review charging decisions, trial preparation, accomplice testimony, defense strategies, and witness preparation.

PROTECTING YOURSELF IN A DIGITAL WORLD

Jim Tanner

Join a cybercrime analyst as he talks, in plain English, about the technical problems and risks everyone faces each time they log into their computer, use their phone, or use a credit card. Regardless of your technical expertise, you will walk away from this session knowing what to do to protect yourself and your family.

RACE, CLASS, & GENDER: THE IMPACT OF GENDER ENTRAPMENT ON AFRICAN AMERICAN WOMEN

Sharon Ellis Davis

African American female victims of domestic violence may not choose to report their abuse to the police, the church, or seek assistance from outside agencies due to the sordid history of oppression within African American communities. This workshop will bring awareness to the "Gender Entrapment" of African American women and work toward developing a culturally sensitive model of intervention with police and social services agencies.

RAPE CULTURE IN AMERICA: REAL OR IMAGINED?

Amy Jones

This presentation will provide a definition for rape culture as a concept and offer a balanced look at the arguments currently being made for the usefulness of this concept when trying to understand the epidemic of sexual violence in our country.

SEX TRAFFICKING & TECHNOLOGY-FACILITATED CRIMES IN INDIAN COUNTRY

Josefina Sabori

This workshop will explore the dangers faced by women in Indian Country that contribute to victimization through social media sites and technology-facilitated crimes. Participants will be able to identify indicators of sexual exploitation and trafficking based on case study of Native Americans.

SEXUAL ASSAULTS ON CAMPUS

Gus Paidousis

This workshop will cover a statistical overview of the scope and scale of sexual assaults on campus, as well as strengths and weaknesses of strategies to prevent and respond to their occurrence. Common challenges facing school administrations and law enforcement and the value of productive partnerships will be discussed.

SEXUAL DEVIANT KILLERS (PT. 1 & 2)

Lawrence Simon

The evolution and unsettling features of violent sexual deviant pathology will be discussed. Participants will achieve a more comprehensive understanding of the overall mindset and outlook, fantasy facilitators, behaviors and etiology of violent sex offenders with the goal of identifying warning signs, interviewing suspects, increasing effectiveness in search warrants, and using greater case preparation from inception to closure.

STALKING, INTIMATE PARTNER VIOLENCE, & ABUSE IN THE SOCIAL MEDIA AGE

Elaina Roberts

This workshop will focus on common ways stalkers misuse technologies, such as social media, smartphones, computers, cameras, and location-based services. It will give allied criminal justice professionals the tools they need to better work stalking cases, steps a victim can take to more safely use technology, and considerations for documentation and evidence collection.

STRESS FIRST AID & EMOTIONAL SURVIVAL

Matt Hagan, Cliff Self

One-on-one or group interventions after dealing with traumatic events is important to keep first responders physically and mentally healthy. Studies have shown that those who are reluctant to seek psychological help are often willing to discuss issues with peer support teams. This fun, engaging workshop will cover the dynamics of dealing with traumatic investigations and how to emotionally survive the aftermath.

SUCCESSFULLY IDENTIFYING & ACQUIRING ELECTRONIC EVIDENCE TO COMBAT THE CSI EFFECT

Michael Crumrine

Given the common delays in reporting crimes of gender-based violence, non-traditional forms of evidence, such as electronic, must be used. This workshop will discuss tapping into the digital life of the offender, crafting search warrants for electronics, conducting pre-text communications, and other methods for electronic evidence collection. It will include examples of sanitized search warrants used in actual cases.

SUFFER FROM BURNOUT? GIVE 'EM THE F.I.N.G.E.R.!

Mark Yarbrough

The unhappiness and detachment burnout cases can threaten your job, relationships, and health. Participants will learn the definition and symptoms of burnout while laughing and learning how to apply the presenter's F.I.N.G.E.R. philosophy to help themselves and their co-workers avoid and/or recover from burnout.

TAKE OUT THE DRAMA, BRING IN THE TRAUMA: HOW TO CONVERT CHALLENGES INTO CONVICTIONS +

Kelsey McKay, Russell Strand

What impact does trauma have on whether a violent crime is taken seriously, documented, investigated, or prosecuted? The answer may surprise you. Information that may not make sense and is often misinterpreted can be valuable if understood and translated. This workshop provides information about common red flags and discuss strategies to enable a better analysis of these complex cases.

TAKING ON THE TOUGH SEXUAL ASSAULT CASE: MOVING BEYOND UNREASONABLE DOUBT ⚡

Russell Strand

This workshop will focus on symptoms that indicate brain-based responses to fear and trauma to better clarify whether aspects of a report being viewed as unreasonable doubt are, in fact, evidence of a crime. Balancing the totality of the case against an accurate set of metrics provides the framework to either prove "positive evidence" or disprove "negative evidence."

TELL ME HOW YOU REALLY FEEL: JURY SELECTION IN CASES INVOLVING CRIMES AGAINST WOMEN ⚡

Tiana Sanford

An attorney may receive mere minutes to educate and influence a potential juror, compared to the hours that individual is being influenced by their environments and the people in them. This workshop will explore critical differences in jury selection for cases involving crimes against women and effective strategies for identifying juror bias and solidifying desired jurors.

TITLE IX INVESTIGATIONS 101

Brandy Davis

In this workshop, attendees will learn the "who, what, why, and how" of the Title IX investigation and adjudication process, from intake to resolution, incorporating legal requirements and institutional best practices. The presenter will also address the significant differences between criminal and Title IX definitions and procedures.

TRANSLATING DOUBT INTO CONVICTION THROUGH THE STRATEGIC USE OF EXPERT WITNESSES (PART 1 & 2) ⚡

Margaret Bassett, Noël Busch-Armendariz, Melissa Hamilton

This two-part workshop will provide guidance on when and how to use expert witnesses to help fact finders view interpersonal crimes through the correct filter necessary to turn "weaknesses" into evidence of a crime. Participants will develop strategies to address common themes, safety, and risk assessment.

UNDERSTANDING & INVESTIGATING TECHNOLOGY MISUSE

Bryan Franke, Erica Olsen

Offenders often misuse technologies and online spaces as tactics of abuse. Helpful for criminal justice professionals as well as service providers, this session will discuss offenders' tactics, how survivors can document the abuse, and how law enforcement can collect evidence and pursue cases.

UNDERSTANDING THE CRIME SCENE IN NON-FATAL STRANGULATION CASES (3 HR.) ⚡

Casey Gwinn, Kelsey McKay, Jamie Slaughter, Bill Smock

In this mock scenario, participants will investigate a non-fatal strangulation case. They will work collaboratively to gather hard-to-detect evidence, build a case, and practice interviewing the witness and investigating the crime scene. It will conclude with a summary of tips for improving your investigation for felony prosecution. This session will be limited to 50 attendees in order to provide a hands-on, interactive experience.

THE UNIDENTIFIED VICTIM ON PROBATION

Jim Henderson

Probation, parole, and pre-trial services professionals can play an important role in identifying and addressing the needs of IPV victims under community supervision and recognize unreported cases. The presenter will discuss risk factors, sample screening questions/tools, and supervision strategies. Attendees will also learn to identify collateral contacts and other data that can be useful when seeking to identify IPV victims.

UNMASKING THE SEXUAL OFFENDER (PT. 1 & 2)

Veronique Valliere

Sexual offenders present difficult and complicated issues in treatment and management. Traditional approaches are not only ineffective, but can replicate the offense dynamics and increase risk to the community. Participants will develop an understanding of sexual offense dynamics and an acceptance of the worldview of the offender. An exploration of the distortions, fantasies, and interpersonal manipulations will be presented.

USING DIALECTICAL BEHAVIOR THERAPY SKILLS WITH VICTIMS OF VIOLENCE

Michele Galietta

Dialectical Behavior Therapy is a cognitive-behavioral intervention that may be useful to those working with individuals who have experienced severe violence or trauma. Trauma robs someone of a sense of well-being, and DBT uses mindfulness to restore that sense of safety. Other skills in DBT teach strategies for coping with painful emotions, tolerating distress, and managing relationships.

USING NEUROFEEDBACK TO TREAT DOMESTIC VIOLENCE BRAIN INJURIES

Joshua Brown, Peggy Wright

Recognizing that traumatic brain injury could greatly interfere with an abuse survivor's goal of achieving self-sufficiency, the Fort Bend Women's Center began a neurofeedback program that has had promising results. Participants of this workshop will be presented with relevant overviews of TBI, IPV, and neurofeedback, including a live neurofeedback demonstration.

VOLUNTARY INTOXICATION: IT'S NOT CONSENT FOR SEX, YOU KNOW!

Russell Strand

Sexual assault investigations and prosecutions involving voluntary intoxicated victims present significant challenges. This workshop will provide participants with a strong foundation in the toxicology of alcohol and how to investigate to identify the outward manifestations of the impact of alcohol, as well as its impact on decision-making, memory, and perception.

WALKING THE LINE: ASSISTING VICTIMS OF VIOLENT CRIME & SUPPORTING INVESTIGATORS ⚡

Peter Angell, Jennifer Romero

This workshop will discuss the vital role that victim advocates play not only in assisting victims and facilitating the recovery process, but also in supporting the investigation and prosecution when working as a team with agents and prosecutors. An FBI Victim Specialist and Special Agent will share best practices and lessons learned from years of experience.

WHAT YOU SHOULD EXPECT FROM AN EFFECTIVE ON-SCENE INVESTIGATION

Mark Wynn

Through the use of interactive participation, case studies, and re-enactments, the participants will view the incident and crime scene through the eyes of the investigating officer. On completion of this workshop, participants will understand the five objectives of an on-scene investigation, interviewing techniques, victim behaviors, and offender motivation.

WHY VIOLENCE HAPPENS WHEN VETERANS COME HOME: VETERAN, SPOUSE & LEGAL PERSPECTIVES (PT. 1 & 2)

Anne Jackson, Michael Jackson

Lt. Col. Jackson will provide a candid discussion of his deployments, their effect on him and his family, and his continued challenges with the lingering effects of service. Mrs. Jackson will discuss her experiences as a spouse, mother, and prosecutor of military family violence to distinguish traditional family violence power and control models from typical post deployment behaviors.
