CRIMES AGAINST WOMEN

MAY 19-22, 2025

SHERATON HOTEL | DALLAS, TEXAS

YOUR PRESENCE FUELS A RIPPLE EFFECT
IN ENDING VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN

MISSION OF CCAW The mission of the Conference on Crimes Against Women (CCAW) is to provide a national platform to disseminate the highest level of training, information, and strategies to professionals who are responders and advocates to victims of the many and varied forms of crimes against women including domestic violence, human trafficking, sexual assault, and strangulation.

WELCOME TO THE 20TH ANNUAL

CONFERENCE ON CRIMES AGAINST WOMEN

Welcome to the 20th annual Conference on Crimes Against Women. For twenty years, this conference has been a global leader in improving how crimes against women are investigated, prosecuted, and addressed—supporting both victims and survivors. It is an honor to have you join us from all 50 states, 41 Indian Nations, , and 5 foreign countries.

In partnership with the Dallas Police, Genesis Women's Shelter & Support in Dallas co-founded this conference to learn best practices that hold perpetrators accountable while providing justice for victims. In these uncertain times it is more important than ever that we support and network with each other to learn and be equipped with new tools and skills for working with and bringing justice to women who have experienced gender-based violence.

For you who have previously attended the National Conference on Crimes Against Women, WELCOME BACK! If you are a first-time attendee, you are in for an amazing four days. There is nothing quite like the energy that comes from a ballroom of thousands of practitioners all coming together with one shared goal – making this world a safer place in which to live.

For 20 years, the Conference on Crimes Against Women has provided best practices and resources to system professionals to assist in their role of helping end violence against women. CCAW has been recognized as the nation's leading training resource on these types of crimes.

In partnership with the National Conference, in 2023, Genesis launched the National Training Center on Crimes Against Women. All CCAW attendees will be receiving information about ongoing year-round trainings as we continue to support you in your efforts to end violence against women.

Thank you for continuing to trust us to provide the most cutting-edge, timely education in the field. And thank you for what you do day in and day out. Please know you make a difference. YOU ARE OUR HEROES!

With respect to the victimization of women, the Department has deployed significant resources to effectively investigate the full range of crimes that are committed against women. While all personnel share the responsibility to combat these crimes, the Department has specialized units that have the primary investigative responsibility for the investigation of domestic violence, protective order violations, stalking, sexual assault, registered sex offenders, trafficking, and homicide.

CCAW PROGRAMS

Check out the programs that Conference on Crimes Against Women has to offer!

The Conference on Crimes Against Women (CCAW) launched the National Training Center on Crimes Against Women (NTC) in 2023. NTC allows CCAW to expand to year-round programming, broadening the ability to dive deeper into discipline-specific topics and increasing the opportunity to reach other disciplines such as healthcare, faith communities, and higher education.

The National Training Center serves as an integral part of CCAW's mission to provide a national forum to disseminate the highest level of training. This is accomplished by providing progressive and advanced training from our array of subject matter experts that we have cultivated over the last two decades through the annual conference. NTC offers a space for our state and national partner(s) to host events and trainings.

Visit www.trainingcaw.org to learn more about the NTC and see upcoming training opportunities.

The Institute for Coordinated Community Response (ICCR) works alongside rural communities to improve their collaborative, systemic responses to domestic violence. Criminal justice practitioners from a rural community review current practices, learn from experts, and collaboratively implement changes to begin establishing an effective, sustainable Coordinated Community Response (CCR). This also includes a robust program comprised of quarterly in-person trainings hosted in a rural community.

In addition, ICCR provides training focused around the unique needs of rural communities on a national level. This is accomplished by providing free e-courses, virtual roll call trainings, and monthly webinars.

Since its inception in 2018, ICCR has worked solely with counties throughout Texas, however in 2023 ICCR was awarded funding from the Office of Violence Against Women (OVW) to expand its work to rural communities throughout the United States.

Visit www.instituteccr.org to learn more about ICCR and online training opportunities.

The Podcast on Crimes Against Women serves as an extension of the information and topics presented at the annual Conference, providing in-depth dialogue, fresh perspectives, and relevant updates by experts in the fields of victim advocacy, criminal justice, medicine, and more. The podcast creates a space to engage and educate community members on the issue of violence against women, how it impacts our daily lives, and how we can work together to create lasting cultural and systemic change.

Visit www.conferencecaw.org/podcast to listen to all six seasons of the Podcast on Crimes Against Women, or subscribe to the podcast on your favorite platform.

2025 IGNITE AWARD WINNER

BLACK & MISSING FOUNDATION INC.

At CCAW, we are honored to recognize organizations that exemplify bold leadership, relentless advocacy, and transformative impact in the fight to end violence and injustice. This year, we are proud to present the IGNITE Award to the Black and Missing Foundation, Inc. (BAMFI)—a powerhouse nonprofit changing the narrative around missing persons of color.

Founded in 2008 by Derrica Wilson, a veteran law enforcement official, and Natalie Wilson, a seasoned public relations professional, BAMFI was born out of a critical need: to address the alarming disparities in how missing persons cases are handled—especially when it comes to communities of color. Together, they combined their expertise to build a platform that not only amplifies the voices of the missing and their families, but also pushes for systemic change in how these cases are treated by media and law enforcement.

Through impactful awareness campaigns and strategic media outreach, BAMFI brings national attention to individuals who might otherwise be overlooked. Their work empowers families with the tools to share their loved ones' stories, while leveraging every available channel—television, radio, print, and social media—to mobilize communities and aid in searches. At its core, BAMFI is about more than visibility; it's about equity, advocacy, and giving families a fighting chance. We are inspired by their work and deeply honored to celebrate BAMFI as the IGNITE Award recipient at CCAW 2025. Chair of the Board of Directors, Rebekah Howard, will be accepting the award on behalf of the BAMFI organization.
