We understand you may not want to miss out on a session in order to grab lunch - don't worry! You can bring your lunch into a session or we have sessions that are repeated later in the week. These are noted in the mobile app and in the conference digital program.

First come, first serve sessions

The conference does NOT reserve any seats for sessions. All sessions are first come, first serve.

PROGRAM

A note on this year's program format:

In an effort to reduce paper use and support a more sustainable event, we will NOT be providing a full printed program this year. The full digital version is available online, and we encourage you to download or print a copy at home if you prefer having something in hand.

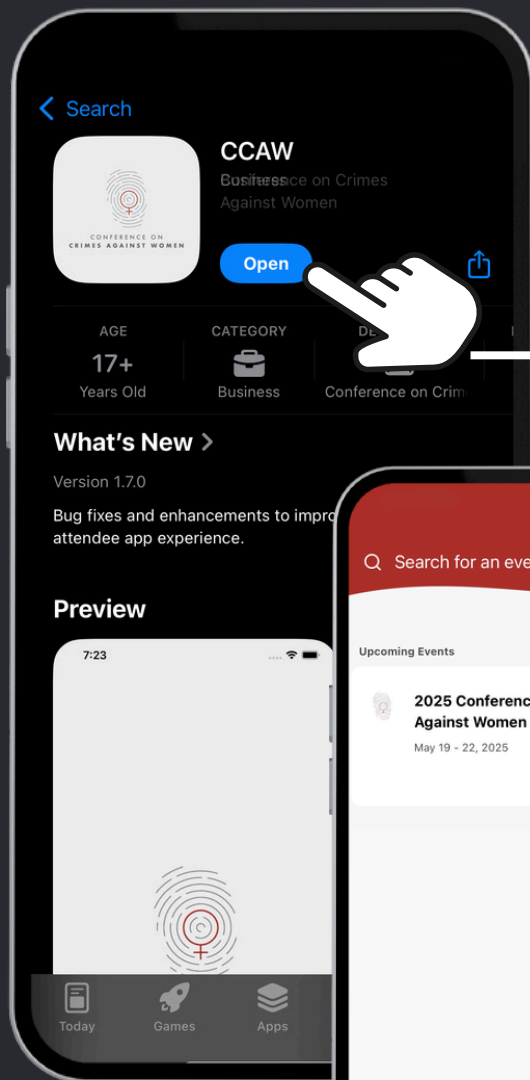

We understand that going fully digital can be a transition, so for those who would still like a physical reference, we will have a limited number of printed schedules available onsite.

Click below to access the digital program. This can also be found on the Conference App.

Q&A

How do I get CEUs?

To receive credits on your certificate, you must scan your badge when walking into a session. If you don't do this, you will not receive credit. Once you complete the overall survey in the mobile app, you will be emailed your certificate that will reflect all of the sessions you scanned into. Each attendee must report their attendance to their individual reporting agency.

What is the dress code?

Conference attendees should dress professional/business casual. We also recommend dressing warm as the Sheraton Hotel stays very cold. If you forget a jacket, stop by the CCAW merch table and purchase a fleece or blanket! We also require attendees to wear their badges at ALL times.

Can I bring my pet?

No animals are allowed in the Conference Center unless they are recognized service animals as defined by the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

Can I carry my firearm?

The Sheraton prohibits open and concealed carry for non-law enforcement. Firearms for law enforcement are allowed to be kept on your person or locked in your hotel safe.

Are meals provided?

There will be a light breakfast of pastries, fruit, and coffee daily. Lunch and dinner are not provided and should be purchased individually by attendees. Food will be provided during the Howdy Hour event.
